City and County of Denver | 2017 Employee Engagement Survey

Department/Agency report for:

C&R Clerk & Recorder's Office

Employee Engagement

Overview

Employee engagement is the extent to which employees are motivated to contribute to business success, and are willing to apply discretionary effort to accomplishing tasks important to the achievement of business goals.

Numerous studies have demonstrated that an engaged workforce can have a significant effect on financial and operational results. Businesses with highly engaged employees see higher customer satisfaction, have lower turnover rates, and outperform businesses with lower levels of employee engagement.

PwC Approach

To help organizations use employee engagement to drive business goals, PwC has created the Employee Engagement Index (EEI). Employee engagement is measured by asking employees the extent to which they agree with the following items:

Advocacy	Commitment	Discretionary effort
I would recommend a close friend to apply for a job at the city.	I intend to stay with the city for at least another 12 months.	My coworkers are willing to go beyond what is expected for the success of the city.

Pride	Achievement	Alignment
work for the city.	My coworkers are dedicated to satisfying the expectations of external and internal customers and citizens.	<ul> <li>I understand how the work I do relates to the success of the city.</li> </ul>

Overview

Survey Objectives

- Understand current levels of employee engagement and gain overall understanding of employee sentiments
- · Assess strengths and vulnerabilities across the city and its agencies
- · Build upon the baseline survey that was developed in 2015
- Provide a deeper understanding of the current environment, to better pinpoint action items and enable additional analysis

Survey Methodology

- One questionnaire was deployed to all 11,064 employees throughout City and County of Denver
- The online survey was administered from June 6- June 28
- Survey items were measured on a 5-point scale (Strongly Disagree, Disagree, Neither Agree nor Disagree, Agree, Strongly Agree)
- Results are presented based on Percent Favorable score, which is the percent of responses that are a 4 or 5 (Agree and Strongly Agree); the higher the reported Percent Favorable Score, the more favorable the result
- Minimum of 10 respondents required for each group to be included in reporting
- · All survey responses are confidential
- · Benchmark data is based on PwC's national average of US-based companies across all industries

How to read this report

Key Findings:

- Response Rates: the participation rate within the defined reporting population
- PwC Engagement Index: the composite average for the six survey items that define engagement; a measure of the extent to which employees invest discretionary effort in their role to drive business outcomes
- CCD Engagement Index: calculated by subtracting the percent of actively disengaged employees from the percent of actively engaged employees. Actively engaged employees are those who select the "top box" (i.e. Strongly Agree) and actively disengaged employees are those who select the "bottom box" (i.e. Strongly Disagree) for the 27 engagement questions
- Intent to Stay: the extent to which respondents express an intention to remain with the organization for another year. This metric is a leading indicator of turnover

Results by item:

- Results by item Top and Bottom 5 results: the top and bottom items for the reporting group in terms of the Percent Favorable score
- Results by item Survey Sections: the results of all items within the survey, broken out by survey dimension or category and providing a comparison against CCD

How to read a heat map | See 11 x 7 handout included

Heat maps are provided to each department/agency as a visual aid in reviewing department wide survey results, and to easily compare key demographics to each other. The data is sorted from highest scoring groups to lowest scoring groups, as well as from highest scoring items to lowest scoring items. This allows leaders to more quickly identify areas of strength as well as areas that need attention for improvement.
