This class will increase positive awareness and understanding of Indigenous ways of life as it pertains to CCSD communities.

Donna serves as co-chair of the Denver American Indian Commission. She works as a legal professional for a law firm in downtown Denver. She stays active in the Native community by volunteering and participating in several community organizations. Donna is a public speaker and has been presenting historical information about Lakota people to schools and organizations for over 40 years.